BARCELONA - NATURE - ORIGINS

Montjuïc

Barcelona is explained through its most symbolic mountain: Montjuïc.

It unites from the millennial origins of its particular geology, which tells us how beneath our feet there was an immense sea, to the diverse and more contemporary architecture of the city represented in the so-called “Olympic ring”.

We will travel through unknown paths and paths to reach impossible corners in the heart of a tourist area, where the trees tell us secret Mediterranean ingredients, plants that tell us about the Mediterranean diet, find beautiful landscapes between the sea and the city and heaps of stories and anecdotes that give us insight into the symbolism and importance of this space which, even today, continues to be a center of cultural and natural life.

The route can be adapted to the interests of the public to have the originality of the walk complemented by the most emblematic images that the place offers: gardens, architecture and spaces related to Olympic Barcelona, museums and symbols of the city.
